

ANDREAS RENDOULIS

Born in Nafplio .

He studied at the Municipal Conservatory of Argos in the class of ATHANASIOS GEORGAKOPOULOS and graduated with the grade "Excellent", "Unanimous", first prize and a cash prize. After further studies with a scholarship at the Athens Conservatory in the class of ALIKI VATIKIOTI, he received a piano soloist diploma with the grade "EXCELLENT", "UNANIMOUS" and first prize "MARIKA PAPAIOANNOU" for the outstanding interpretation of romantic works.

As an active member he attended numerous piano seminars with the internationally renowned couple CONSTANTIN & JULIA GANEV and with the renowned pianist LILIA BOYATZIEVA.

In addition, as an active member he attended extensive seminars for singers and pianists under the direction of Professor RAINER HOFFMANN from the Frankfurt University of Music. After studying at the Panharmonio Conservatory in the class of Zinovia Pouli, he received his singing diploma with the grade "Excellent" and First Prize.

He has collaborated repeatedly as a tenor with the National Opera in various productions (Verdi's Aida, Bellini's Norma, Wagner's Tannhäuser, Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex, etc.) and has performed at the Megaro Mousikis, the Herodium, and the Ancient Theater of Delphi, among others.

He gives solo piano and vocal concerts, as well as conducts concerts with musical ensembles and singers throughout Greece.

He has been honored by the Argos Cultural Association "Danaos" for his valuable contribution to the association's cultural work, as well as by the Argos Municipal Conservatory for his creative contribution to musical art.